Contribution:

PAWAN KUMAR .N

- The youth of India is confused.
- They are under pressure of which subject to study from class 11 and 12 itself.
- Most of them are job seekers than job makers do to pressure from all.

SAHIL MALHOTRA

- The youth of India is both confused and confident.
- Its clear about what to do at the end of 10 years but not confident about how to reach their therefore the youth takes a lot of advices.
- The youth is not using their own head.

SAMARATH CHANDRAWAT

- The youth is being made confused by social media.
- The youth in India is talented and has the ability to rise high.
- The Population Explosion is the main cause to decrease in youth talent but this can be used as a pro as we have large man power. Thus the youth of India is the key to success.

AKASH GOYAL

- India has a large polulation and it is a developing country with talented youth.
- The youth is getting distracted by the social media like Facebook, Twiiter etc.
- The youth can use this(social media) for good purpose also.

PRABHDEEP SINGH CHAWLA

- He introduced the topic and concluded also.
- The youths are getting less opportunity, this opportunity are filling at a rapid rate. Therefore the youth is confidently choosing their at right time.
- The number of opprtunities should increase in India.
- The youth is the only thing that can help a country to become devepoled country from devepoling country.

OM ASHISH MISHRA

- The youth of India is both confused and confident.
- The youth of India are being pressurized by parents, this results in burdening them with books and this decreases the creativity of the students.

- The Board exams, Entrance exams, coaching classes and school's homework leave no time for hobbies.
- Thus they don't even get enough time to interact with others on social media. This results in MENTAL PRESSURE, so depression comes into them. Some of them even commit suicide.
- This all things makes them confused, even this was depicted in the movie the 3 idiots. Therefore they should be helped. Then they will be successful.
- People should make use of social media to learn by tutorials and online books rather than wasting time by chatting.
- Now a days, the ART OF LIVING books are sold at a large rate because people want to save themselves from depression.
- They should even go to counselling if order understand their mistakes and improvise on it.

KARTHIK PEDDI

- The youth is confident about its future.
- The JALIKATTU incident showed that the youth is confident and can choose its path correctly.
- The youth is confident but the youth needs a proper direction.

SHAILENDRA SHARMA

- The youth of India are confused to choose career path.
- Under parent, peer pressure and under the pressure of the population, they are running after marks, cgpa and job.
- They are not looking into the matter that the suicide cases in Engineering are rising every year.
- Therefore the need guidance and they need to think before taking any path.

RISHAB TYAGI

- The youth of India is confused.
- They cannot decided which hobby to take or which thing to do in life.
- Therefore they take B-tech under the parental pressure.
